What he clearly meant in making the above assertion was not in reference to the past, to slavery, or to the emancipation, which is a fait accompli, but in reference to the future, that when Radical party shall have used the negro to their hearts' content, it will allow them, in the elegant language of Horace Greeley, "to roo, hog, or die."

County Commissioners and Scott County, passed at their Special Session on March 12th, 1868, Sealed Proposals will be received at the Office of the County Auditor, up

We learn that Mrs. Spectator one evening last week, was afflicted with that terrible disease—the Humors, and exhibited conduct unbecoming a lady. It is hoped she will learn better manners or keep out of decent society.

New advertisements have crowded upon us so fast, that we have but little room for home news this week, and also were compelled to omit some of our advertisements.

STUDYING LAW.—We understand that Mrs. Spectator has commenced the study of law and had progressed so rapidly that one evening last week she got her head into clawing, and it took four men to get it out again.

The Town meetings this year comes on the 7th day of April.

About noon today our street was enlivened by a runaway. John McMillen's horse was standing in the street and stepped on a pig, which gave such a signal that it started the horse off at 2:40 through the streets. No damage except a broken wagon.

We are in receipt of a Catalogue of Raspberries, Blackberries, Grapes, Vines, and Fruit and Ornamental Trees, which are cultivated by MAMON MOON, at Morrisville, Bucks County, Pennsylvania. This catalogue will be sent free, postpaid, by Mr.
Moon to any person sending his address.
It contains illustrations of the Clarke and Philadelphia Raspberries, of the celebrated Kittanning and Wilson early. It also contains long lists of raspberries, blackberries,
grapes, vines, fruit trees—apples, pears,
peaches, cherry and plum, ornamental trees, flowering shrubs, evergreens, and roses, with a list of prices.

The River.—On Monday the ice in the Minnesota River began to disappear, and has all gone out in front of Shakopee by Tuesday noon.

A lot of fine Seed Oats for sale by W. G. Briggs.

MORTON'S GOLD PEN.—Morton's Gold Pen is undoubtedly the best gold pen in the market. We have one which we have used constantly for over six years, and we believe this pen has done more writing than any other pen in the State. It stands constantly wear better than any other pen in use.

The elastic points of the Morton Pen yields exactly so as to produce a heavy shade or a delicate hair line. There is no scratching or splintering. They are fully warranted, and if any pen does not suit your hand, it can be exchanged for another.

We find these pens the cheapest, as well as the best, for our school children. Morton makes all sizes and styles of gold pens, numbered according to the size and quality of the gold, but all pointed in the same manner and of equal durability. If you once get a Morton Pen you will never again use any other. We do not know whether Morton has an agent in this place or not, but if not, a pen can be had by addressing A.
Morton, 25 Maiden Lane, New York City.

A FINE ORGAN.—The M. E. Church have procured a fine organ for the use of their church, and they say it produces fine
music. We know it will make a big noise, but as we do not know "Yankee Doodle"
from "Old Hundred," we are not able to tell what the noise is all about, but are willing to adopt the opinion of good judges
and call it good music.

Pos't-ter-Son.—Nor any of the common kinds of Saleratus in making bread,
if you value health and desire to have bread that is palatable. Always use D. B.
De Land & Co's Best Chemical Saleratus
and you will have a pure article. It may be found at the store of D. M. Storer. It is put up in full weights, others are short weights.

We never our readers to the advertisement of Joseph Carpenter. Those having any description of produce will do well to give him a trial.

tages of the Perrine Plow over all others,
is its great durability. It will last from

Meeting of the Democratic State Committee.

There will be a meeting of the Democratic State Committee at Ottumwa, on the 1st day of April, 1868, at 2 o'clock, P. M., to transact important business. All members are earnestly requested to be present.

C. E. FLANDRAU, Chairman.
Jas. J. Goss, Secretary.

THE RAMSEY AND DONNELLY CORRESPONDENCE.

An effort has been made to create a new Land District in Minnesota, with the officers located at Alexandria. The rapid settlement of that part of the State has created a demand for the formation of a new land district. As it now is, preceptors have to travel a hundred miles to the St. Cloud Land Office, to meet the entry of their homesteads. To meet this pressing want, Senator Ramsey introduced on the 12th of February into the United States Senate, a bill creating the new district. But Mr. Donnelly, in the House, admitting the necessity of the formation of the new district, ever true to the instinct of a political demagogue, declares he will defeat the bill in the House, unless he can have his say as to who shall be appointed to fill the new offices which the new land district would render necessary. Mr. Donnelly therefore writes to Senator Ramsey, requesting him to select the Register and Receiver for the new district from a list of names which he encloses. Donnelly in substance intimates that unless Ramsey agrees to select those officers from the list of names which he had furnished, he (Donnelly) will have the bill defeated in the House.

Senator Ramsey answers the letter, and urges the great necessity for the new district; assures Donnelly that no improper appointments to fill the new offices would be confirmed by the Senate; but declines to be bound to select from Donnelly's list, and urges Mr. Donnelly not to oppose the passage of the bill through the House.

This answer of Senator Ramsey seems to have called out another long and prosy letter from Donnelly, in which he takes the singular position that the interest of the Republican party in this State requires that Senator Ramsey—a life-long Republican—should not be trusted with the control of the appointment of two land officers, and that therefore he will endeavor to defeat the bill creating the new land district.

It is at once conceded that the position assumed by Senator Ramsey is that of a statesman, while the position assumed by Donnelly is that of a narrow-minded demagogue. The key, however, to this lock between this Senator and Representative, will be found in the fact that they are both to be candidates before the next Legislature for the United States Senate, in the place of Ramsey, whose term expires in March next. Each, therefore, wishes to have the control of as many Federal appointments in this State as possible, each hoping thereby to be better able to procure his own friends to seats in the next Legislature. Both are seeking the same ends, but Senator Ramsey, in the position he has assumed on paper, stands on the firm ground of statesmanship, while Donnelly is floundering in the quagmire of the demagogue.

He says, gentlemen, and save your dignity, for the people of Minnesota intend next fall to see that both of your seats on the 4th of March next, are occupied by honest Democrats.

WHOSE FERRY IS IT?

On March 10th the Board of County Commissioners of Scott County granted a ferry license to E. F. Drake and J. L. Merriam, to run a ferry for five years across the Minnesota river opposite Merriam road station, which is about half way between Carver and Chaska. But on the 3d of March, the Board of County Commissioners of Carver County granted a ferry license for five years to L. H. Griffin to run a ferry across the river at the same place. Whose ferry is it? Either county has jurisdiction to grant the license, but the county that first exercises the right supercedes the jurisdiction of the other. Carver county, it would seem, had a full week's start of Scott.

"THE LADY'S FASHION" FOR APRIL.—A beautiful and pathetic steel engraving, "Gleanings by the Tide," is the leading embellishment in the April number of this "Queen of the Monthlies"—it is a story in itself. This is followed by the usual refined and elegant double Steel Fashion Plate—superior to Fashion Plates generally. "The Day after the Failure," is a touching picture. Of course, there are numerous engravings devoted to the fashions, and to different styles of lady's and children's dresses, &c. The music for this month is the popular song, "Lady, do not Trust the Stranger," which is worth of itself the price of the number. The literary contents are excellent as usual; among them we may specify "The Work of a Day," by Mrs. Houser; "Widows versus Doctors," by Frances A. Shaw; "A Doctor's Rule," by Elizabeth Prescott; "My Last Courtship," "Ary's Philomela," "Editorials," The Fashions, Receipts, &c., &c. Price (with engraving) $2.50 a year. Four copies (with engraving) $6.00. One copy of Lady's Friend and one of that popular weekly The Saturday Evening Post (and one engraving), $4.00. Address Deacon & Peterson, 319 Walnut Street, Philadelphia. Sample copies, 15 cents.

The First Boat.—The Diamond Jo reached Winona on Saturday evening last. Last year the first boat did not reach Winona until the 13th of April. The Diamond Jo is on her way to St. Paul.

Shakopee Argus.

Vol. 7.

SHAKOPEE, MINNESOTA, THURSDAY, MARCH 26, 1868.

No. 10.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE.—The April No. of this excellent Monthly Magazine is at hand. The plan of the Magazine excludes Politics and Polemics. Apart from these topics, it includes every thing pertaining to Literature, Art, Industry, Popular Science, and Social Life.

In the April number is commenced a series of papers upon Penn., by E. G. Squier. These papers will be profusely illustrated from photographs taken in the ancient seat of Inca civilization by Mr. Squier, while acting as a Special Commissioner from the United States to Peru. These fresh researches of Mr. Squier throw more light than anything heretofore published upon the subject of the early civilization of South America.

"THE NORDISK FOLKELAD," is the title of a Norwegian paper, the publication of which has just been commenced by Messrs. Leonard & Booth, of the Rochester Post. The paper is neatly printed and doubtless very interesting to those who can read it. It is Republican in politics and said to be the only paper in the Scandinavian language published in the Northwest.—Terms $2 a year.

General James Shields, formerly a resident of this State, and who distinguished himself by his bravery at Winchester and during the Mexican war, is now engaged in lecturing for the benefit of the families of the Fenians who were convicted and executed in Great Britain. The General is about removing his residence to St. Joseph, Missouri, at which place he was to speak on St. Patrick's night.

AN UNUSUAL OXYGEN.—Whenever we read the Shakopee Argus, the thought strikes us that the fools are not all dead. Some would say he is a literary purp—St. Peter.

A ghost is in the habit lately of making visits to the Window House at St. Anthony. Mr. Ghost at first appeared at night, and only to a young lady, but lately he has become so bold as to appear in broad day light. The lady has shot the ghost through the heart, but he does not die. He talks good English and is readily understood by all, but can be seen only by the young lady. The ghost is well dressed and good looking, but old and in ill health.

SAINT PATRICK'S DAY IN BELLE PLAIN.

From the Northwestern Chronicle.

BELLE PLAIN, March 17, 1868.
DEAR SIR: Knowing that anything pertaining to that National Festival which all Irish Catholics all over the world, has clung to with so much love and veneration, and to which they still cling with that true love and veneration for their Fatherland, which is the true and shining characteristic of Irish Catholics everywhere, has not been forgotten in Belle Plain.

The day has been duly observed and celebrated by the Catholics of this attractive town, in a truly Christian manner, under the guidance of their devoted and energetic pastor, Father Berghall. At ten o'clock, the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass was offered up, in which a numerous and devoted congregation assisted. And after the first gospel, we had the happiness of listening to one of the most eloquent and feeling discourses on St. Patrick and his devoted children, it has been my good fortune to listen to in many a year, and one which must have brought a thrill of joy to every Irish heart. But the most prominent feature of the day was the splendid picture of St. Patrick, placed in our church for the first time today. This picture is life size, being 4x6 feet, and represents the Saint in robes, with a mitre and crozier, and in the act of driving serpents into the sea. This picture has been painted by a young German artist, and painted by a young German artist, who visited this place last summer and stopped a few weeks with the Rev. gentleman. It cost about $50.00, which, I am happy to say, has been paid by the Irish Catholics to their devoted pastor. This is indeed a noble and truly national compliment paid to the Irish Catholics of this place by their Rev. Pastor, and one which I am sure they appreciate the more on account of the Rev. gentleman not being an Irishman himself, but nevertheless who is entirely devoted to the spiritual and temporal wants of his whole flock. The same and truly Christian example and teachings of our young and talented pastor is daily producing its good effects, not only in his own congregation, but even in all society.

A GYREX.

The editor of the Red Wing Argus has been visiting the County Poor House.—What's the matter, Red?—Wabash Herald.

It's all right, neighbor. We were only examining the building to see if the quarters were sufficient for the many who are too poor to take their county papers. The building is large enough to accommodate 75 of them and will, when all built, 250. It is consoling to know there is a refuge for such unfortunate people.—Red Wing Argus.

The Le Sueur Courier says: "The farmers of that county are making preparations to engage in the cultivation of hops. Mr. Timothy Sten, of Dairyman township, has ordered roots sufficient to plant three acres, which he procures from the great hop growing region of Wisconsin."

The Anoka Union says: "The residence of Mr. Cheever, near Cook Creek, was destroyed by fire recently. The contents of the building were all saved, excepting the furniture and bedding in the second story. Loss $800. Fully insured."

Mr. Cheever was formerly a resident of Shakopee and the owner of the distillery that was burned some three or four years ago.

—St. Peter is to have no less than three additional churches built during the coming year.
